Navy Yard. These were the matches of the week in this league, for upon the outcome of these games depended a great deal as to final positions of the leaders The Bureaus were favorites over the Warriors, and the Navy Yard, owing to their recent good work, had a number of admirers who thought they had a look in on their set with the Interiors. The uncertainties of the game were never more aptly illustrated than in these matches. The War boys, who are in the ruck of the standing, set out for the scalps of the Bureau team, and to the surprise of the spectators landed two out of the three. In the meantime, on the following night, the Interiors were having the battle of their lives, they having to bowl 974, 952 and 1,030, in order to shake loose from the Navy Yard, the latter bowling games that were a great credit to any league, and games that are looked upon as winners. For the first time since the season started these teams have been having a battle royal, not over one game separating them at any stage of the race, and many weeks sult, the Metropolitan team, which did the teams were tied.

It is to be regretted when the season closes. that these two rivals are not scheduled for another game, for they would be sure of a record-breaking attendance and the spectators would be treated to high class bowling.

The Commissioners are right on the heels of the Bureau boys for second place honors, but two games behind them and only four games behind the leaders. If the teams keep up their fast work there will be plenty of sport when the Bureau-Commissioners' match comes off, as these teams are yet to meet in their final series. In the second division the Navy Yard, Treasury, and War teams are bunched for fifth place with the Navy Yard and Warriors putting up first-class games. The Postoffice dropped two games to the Treasury boys last week, and if they show no im provement they will find the fourth place too hot to hold, for the leaders of the tail-end aggregation are coming fast

Can Be A hieved Save by the Most Drastic Proceeding.

"I could take six determined men and under the present rules of the Senate wreck the Government," is the remarkclose which lasted more than two days. This is cloture for this greatest of all institutions for free speech. The Senator had indefinitely delayed or even defeated.

For more than two months the Senate has been in a state of continual deadlock, and when an adjournment was taka break. Without doubt, the worst casof filibustering in the history of the United States Senate has been witnessed Object to Law Limiting Age of Venders at this session, and has brought about a wonderful change of views regarding cloture rules.

Inclined to Cloture.

Many who, a few weeks ago, would not have listened to a suggestion of shutting off free speech, are now discussing limited cloture, and it is certain that a week more of the present situation would result in a majority of the Senate asking that some action be taken to prevent any such deadlock as that now existing.

Those who have proposed limited loture, however, have been confronted with a problem not easily solved. Under the present rules no limitation is placed on debate, and there is no reason why there should not be a filibuster against the proposition of adopting a cloture rule just as well as against the Panama Canal treaty or any of the numerous other measures which have been held up by a determined minority.

What Presiding Officer Might Do.

In discussing the situation one of the Senators said that the only way the rules could be changed would be for the president of the Senate to shut off debate arbitrarily and submit the question

The plan suggested for limited cloture is to make a rule to be invoked only after fillbustering has gone on for more than a month and then only by a vote of two-thirds of the Senate. However, there are many members who are opposed to ing against precedent, and some w
